Description

The TitanCase M is a high-quality universal case measuring 40x30x10 cm, which impresses with its sophisticated design and versatility. The frame is made of robust aluminum, while the sides are made of hard-wearing composite material, which makes the case particularly stable and lightweight. Inside there is a tool-free customizable cube foam that can be individually adjusted by simply tugging, guaranteeing a perfect fit for your valuable items. Whether as a drone case, gun case, tool case or transport case - this case offers optimum protection for sensitive equipment, tools or other sensitive contents. The integrated combination lock provides additional security and protects your belongings from unauthorized access. Thanks to its lightweight design and compact size, the TitanCase M is easy to transport, while its hard-wearing materials can withstand even the most demanding conditions. With its timeless titanium gray and premium finish, this case is the ideal choice for anyone looking for a secure, flexible and stylish storage solution.

- ALUMINIUM FRAME: Robust aluminum frame with durable composite sides for high stability and low weight.
- CUBE FOAM: Tool-free customizable cube foam that is easy to pluck and provides a perfect fit for your contents.
